Chase Your Dreams

Here has come the time, go chase your dreams
Don't worry even if too far they seem
Be what you want to be
Please, don't be what others want you to see
But first be independent, be free
Then you'll surely reach your destination, trust me!
Don't be afraid for your first move
But be hardworking, remember not to leave the ends loose...
Go chase your dreams
Don't worry even if too far they seem
But while doing this if someone, for your dream, says 'no'
Just push him aside and say 'let go'
Its your life
And for it, you might have to fight
Don't let your dreams, for anyone, shatter
Because a dream is the most important thing that matters
Your wings have beautifully come out
So speed them and shout it out loud
'Here I come OH! My dream! '
I'll not give up even if too far you seem
